The prosecution also resumed looking into possible socialistic tendencies in the minds of prospective jurors to try James B. McNamara.

Would you be willing to convict in a case involving the death penalty on circumstantial evidence?" was asked of Frank Frakes, a farmer.

"Yes," said Frakes.

"Are you a socialist?"

"Have you any interest in the so celled socialist movement?"

"Did it ever occur to you that the defendant had the right to take the law into his own hands?" "No."
